
About the Foundation

The Columbian Foundation is a non-profit organization founded in 1941 by business and professional men of Italian descent from Newark and surrounding communities. The objectives of The Foundation are dedicated to improving the cultural, educational, economic and social welfare of New Jersey citizens and institutions.

The work of philanthropy engaged in by The Columbian Foundation are legendary. They include college scholarships for needy students; contributions to children's welfare and charitable organizations; donations to Columbus Hospital to aid in indigent patients; the establishment of the Italian Institute at Seton Hall University to promote the teaching of Italian and to encourage interest in Italian culture, and the support of similar programs at other colleges, universities and hospitals.
